

JURY IN HUGHES CASE DISAGREES

After Deliberating For 18 Hours,
Jurors are Discharged by Special
Judge Craig

WARNS ABOUT VOTE SECRECY

Court Tells Jurors They Are Expected to Hold as Confidential
Result of Ballotting

The jury which heard the case of the State against Mary Ellen Hughes charged with embezzlement, was finally discharged this morning at 8:15 o'clock by Judge Craig of Greensburg, special judge, when the jurors were unable to reach a unanimous verdict, after deliberating over night, or for almost 18 hours.

In discharging the jurors, Judge Craig asked that they refrain from discussing the case with anyone, or telling how the final vote stood, and that they would not be called upon to sit in the case again, as other jurors would be selected for the next trial.

Gates Ketchum, prosecuting attorney, said that he would probably ask for another trial of the case during the May term of court.

The case was given over to jury at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon, and they were compelled to stay in the jury room all night, instead of sleeping in a hotel and they frequently hallotted during the night. They were taken to breakfast early this morning, and returned again to attempt to reach a decision.

When they were sent for by Judge Craig, he asked Lon Kiser, the foreman, if they had arrived at any verdict, to which Mr. Kiser replied that they had not. The judge then asked him if there was any chance of them arriving at a unanimous decision, and the foreman replied that there was not.

Judge Craig stated that it would be punishment for the jury to remain longer in the confinement, as they had stayed up all night, and he thanked them for serving in the capacity of jurors. In this connection, he stated that it was the desire of the court that the refrain from commenting upon the action and vote of the jury, until the case is finally disposed of by the next jury.

Mr. Kiser, the foreman, responded for the jurors, stating that he spoke for all twelve men, and thanked the judge for his remarks, and stated that all of the jurors were pleased to have met him, and to have been associated with him in the case.

The discharge of the jury this morning ended on the sixth day of the trial, which began last Thursday morning. No case heard here in recent months has created as much interest as this one, and every day of the trial the court room was crowded to standing room only.

OUTBUILDING IS DAMAGED

Catches Fire While Tenant on Bohannon Farm Smokes Meat

An outbuilding located near the dwelling house on the Anna Bohannon farm, south of Rushville, was damaged by fire Tuesday morning, while the tenant was smoking meat in the building.

The roof was burned off, but neighbors responded quickly and the flames were prevented from spreading to the residence. The dwelling is occupied by Frank Cameron, Miss Bohannon of this city, the owner stated that the loss to the building would be covered with insurance.

GUARDIANSHIP CASE HEARD BY THE COURT

Evidence Submitted on Petition of Sanford Heaton Seeking to Have Guardian Removed

LOST IN A SIMILAR SUIT

Circuit court was occupied today with another jury case, in which Sanford Heaton is asking that his guardianship be terminated, and that he be declared legally capable of managing his own affairs.

Several jurors were examined this morning, before the twelve were selected. The petitioner, Mr. Heaton, who has been under the guardianship of Macon Wiley for several years, has declared that he is now of sound mind, and can manage his own affairs, which includes a 120-acre farm east of this city.

The same petition was heard last May, and at that time the court decided against him. The former trial required three days, and it is expected that the present case will occupy the court for an equal number of days. Many witnesses have been summoned by each side, in an attempt to prove the issues.

REPORT OF DEVALERA CAPTURE IS DENIED

Irish Free State Military Authorities Refuse To Confirm Story Of Him Being Taken

CLOSE ON HEELS OF REBEL

Dublin, Ireland, April 11.—Capture of Eamon DeValera was reported throughout southern Ireland today but the military authorities of the free state later denied the former president of the Irish republic had been taken.

Accounts of the capture of DeValera and of his lieutenant, Dan Breen, fearless rebel military chief, who fled together from Clonmel after a brush in which Liam Lynch was mortally wounded, were the first ones accepted as true in Dublin today.

Free state troops were known to be close on the heels of DeValera and Breen. When word of their capture reached the capital from Clonmel it was regarded as authentic. Several hours later however, the military authorities of the free state declared the report untrue.

Observers of the Irish republic affairs pointed out that there may be a reason for the free state not desiring the capture of DeValera at this time.

The former president holds the secret of several million dollars worth of bonds sold in this country and it is also pointed out that the Cosgraves government is understood to have little inclination to execute DeValera, which would be almost inevitable if he were taken.

PROOF OF LAW VIOLATION

Indianapolis, Ind., April 11.—Possession of white mule whiskey is proof of violation of the federal prohibition law, Judge A. B. Anderson ruled in federal court today.

It is up to the person possessing it to prove he has it lawfully, which he can not do because the article is contraband the judge held.

The ruling was made in granting injunctions against 10 alleged blind tiger operators in Muncie.

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 11.—More charge of extravagance in state government were made today by Jesse E. Eschbach, head of the board of accounts, whom Governor McCray publicly reprimanded and refused to reappoint following a speech Eschbach made at Terre Haute criticizing state expenditures.

The "retiring official", as the governor called Eschbach, denied McCray's statement that he had retracted the most significant assertions of the Terre Haute speech. He said every statement he made at Terre Haute "was true or it would not have been made."

"I fully believe the expenditures of many departments of the state government could be reduced from 15 to 40 percent per year without in anywise impairing their efficiency," Eschbach said.

Expressing regret at the position of open hostility taken by the governor and declaring he had intended to retire when his term expires May 1, Eschbach continued:

"In my talk at Terre Haute, I pointed out many instances of inefficiency and waste in various municipalities throughout the state which Continued on Page Seven

John Ricker Will Not be Taken to

John Ricker, who appeared in police court Monday night and pleaded guilty to a charge of unlawful possession of liquor, will serve his 30 days in the county jail, instead of at the state penal farm, according to the commitment papers received by the sheriff. Mayor Thomas stated that because the defendant appeared voluntarily and without being arrested, he was given more leniency, and the sentence can be served here. His fine of $100 and costs was paid.

James O'Connor, who pleaded guilty at the same time on a charge of obtaining money on false pretense, will be taken to the state farm, probably Thursday, to begin serving his sentence of 30 days, and his fine of $50 and costs, totalling in all 90 days.

BIDS RECEIVED ON SCHOOL HOUSE

Nine Firms Submit Estimates For General Construction of Jackson
Township Building

BIDS RANGE UP TO $55,000

Six Contractors Contest For Heating and Plumbing Work—Prices
From $10,000 to $13,000

The contract for the construction of the consolidated school building in Jackson township was to be awarded this afternoon by the school officials of that township who opened the various bids here this morning.

Nine contracting firms submitted bids for the general construction of the building, and six firms were represented in bidding on heating and plumbing contract. The contractors prices for the construction ranged from $45,000 to $55,000, and the heating and plumbing bids ranged from $10,000 to $13,000. Several local contractors were among the various bidders.

The plans for the new school building were approved by Henry W. Beckner and the advisory board about the middle of February, when it was definitely decided to advertise for bids, and it was estimated that the total cost would not exceed $49,000.

According to the plans and specifications, the building is to be one story and a basement, constructed of brick and hollow tile, and an attempt will be made to start work this spring, in order to have it completed by the fall term.

The township has been without school buildings this winter, following a ruling passed last summer in which the schools of the township were condemned, and all children this year have been brought to Rushville, and distributed in the city schools. The enrollment of the Jackson township schools is on an average of 100 pupils.

The proposed building calls for only a grade school, and the consolidated (Continued on Page 8)

LUMBERMEN HOLD BANQUET

Dealers of Thirteenth District Represented at Local Meeting

The Thirteenth District, Indiana Builders' Supply association, held a monthly session in Rushville Tuesday night, and was banqueted at the Main Street Christian church by the Always Present Class of the Sunday School.

About thirty members, representing the lumber industries of this district, were here for the meeting. Rushville has entertained the association on several occasions before. The meeting next month will be held in Brookville.

This district includes the counties of Wayne, Union, Henry, Fayette, Franklin and Rush. The purpose of the association is for the lumbermen to become acquainted and talk over the building trades interest. Charles Monyhon of Connersville was chairman of the meeting, and Judge Will M. Sparks addressed the delegation.

SCHOOL CENSUS IS BEING TAKEN

Annual Enumeration Of Persons Of School Age, 6 to 21 Years, Under Way In County

IMPORTANT TO THE SCHOOLS

Per Capita Share Of School Taxes
Is Based On Number Of Persons
Counted By Enumerators

The annual enumeration of persons of school age, is now under way in Rushville and in all townships, and all lists will be completed by April 30, as provided by law. The purpose of the census is to find out on what basis the townships will get back money from the state on a per capita basis.

Mrs. Allie Aldridge who has made the canvass of Rushville for several years, will again have charge of the work in this city, and the townships are enumerated by the trustees or a deputy appointed for that purpose.

Attention has been called to the importance of people answering the questions correctly, because only on this basis can the townships receive the money to which they are entitled.

Many people, when approached as to the number of persons of school age, which is placed from 6 to 21 years of age are reluctant in giving the facts, in fear that some solicitation will be made. This, however, is not the fact and the greater number of persons school age in the township, will mean more money received from the state.

The amount of money for each person of school age this year will mean about $5, and therefore for every person not tabulated by the enumerators there will be loss of $5 from the state fund, for this county.

The school age for school enumeration figures is from 6 to 21 years, regardless of whether the person is in school, or has graduated, or in some state institution.

The head of every family should list all such persons living in the house, who are six years old or who have not reached 21 years.

The only exception to the rule, where the person who has not reached 21 years, is married. In this case the person under 21, who is married, is exempted from the school enumeration.

International Court

COMING HOME THIS MONTH

(By United Press)

London, April 11.—Ambassador George Harvey is going to the United States probably at the end of April for a month's visit, the American embassy announced today.

Washington, April 11.—George Harvey, American ambassador to Great Britain, will come home this month to manage the administration campaign for American entrance into the international court of the league of nations.

President Harding and Ambassador Harvey together will map out and coordinate all administration activities in support of this program which is closer to Mr. Harding's heart than any other major policy for his administration, at this time.

Whether Harvey will return to his London post will depend on what happens after he gets here. He may remain to direct the Harding 1924 campaign.

The president himself selected Harvey to direct the world court campaign.

BANQUET POSTPONED

The banquet of the Men's Century class of the Main Street Christian Sunday school, which was to have been held Tuesday evening in the basement of the church, was postponed until next Tuesday night on account of a lumbermen's banquet at the church. FIELD OF GRAIN WILL BE NORMAL

Chicago Agricultural Statistician Reports As "Seasonal Weather Scare"

WHEAT SUPPLY ABOUT SAME

Shortage Of Drouth And Late Winter Not As Significant And Reduction In Wheat Acreage

(By United Press)

Chicago, April 11—America's grain production this year may still be normal despite a late planting season, drouth, labor shortage and other handicaps.

The situation is not yet serious in the opinion of the best informed sources in Chicago the county's agricultural capital. Lyman West, statistician, for the Chicago board of trade and noted authority declared there is yet plenty of time for spring wheat planting and for winter wheat to develop.

West regards the bulishness of the market and pessimistic reports from quarters as the usual "seasonal weather scare." He called attention to the fact that reports of drouth from the southwest, late winters from the northwest and the cinch and green bug scares from Indiana, Illinois, Oklahoma and Texas are annual events.

The Chicago statistician gave the visible supply of American wheat at 2,356,000 bushels today as compared with 2,456,000 bushels last year. The invisible supply, he said may bring the total this year down to a little less than last. Experts also pointed out that the government's estimate of winter wheat production is 572,351,000 bushels, only a little less than last year and more than the average.

Along with the reports of drouth and late winter in the wheat belt came more significant reports that farmers are planning to reduce acreage of spring wheat for the last three years. H. W. Moorehouse director of research of the American Farm Bureau, said he had received such reports from officials of the individual farmers.

"I am not in the least bullish on wheat prices," said West. "There is plenty of time for a crop and I can foresee no shortage."

West in pointing out that the shortage supply is near normal declared also that there is 9,844,000 bushels of Canadian wheat in the United States against 3,699,000 last year.

Most experts said the labor situation was admittedly bad, but added that it would fit in well plans of farmers to reduce acreage and attempt a diversification of crops.

My demand and supply would be on the proper basis.

I would get both buyers and sellers through The Daily Republican Want Ads. When a man wanted to sell, he would know I was the man to list with, because I would let my Want Ad convince him.

When a man wanted to buy, he would come to me because my Want Ad would tell about my list.

Indiana Crop Report

(U. S. Department Of Agriculture Co-operating with Indiana Legislative Reference Bureau).

Indianapolis, Ind., April 11.—The condition of winter wheat and rye in Indiana is not as good as last year on April 1, but the number of breeding sows has increased very materially over last year according to the report of the cooperative crop reporting service, issued today.

Farm labor is quite scarce at this time, but the demand is not as great as usual, although there is an apparent better outlook for farmers than a year ago. The report follows:

The condition of winter wheat in Indiana April 1 was 78 per cent of normal, which is 12 points under the December condition and the April 1922 condition and 5 points under the April 10-year average condition. On this figure and taking into consideration the average abandonment reported on May 1, a total production of about 29,640,000 bushels may be expected for the state. The total seeded last fall was 2,221,000 acres, of which some has been winter killed and will be plowed up or used for other purposes than grain. The acreage remaining to be harvested this year will probably be some what less than last year's acreage.

The weather during March was very unfavorable to the wheat crop and many correspondents reported March conditions to be the most destructive of any of the winter months. A severe cold spell about the 19th and another the last few days of the month were especially harmful. There was practically no snow covering during the entire winter except in a few counties in the extreme northern part of the state. Owing to drouth in the fall much of the crop was sown very late and it is this part that is in such poor conditions. A few reports of Hessian fly damage were received but were not general.

Rye in Indiana shows a somewhat better condition than wheat being 83 per cent of normal, which is 9 points under the figures reported for April 1, last year, as well as the December 1 condition which was 92 per cent of normal and is comparable with the 10-year average of 89 per cent for April 1. The rye acreage was decreased quite materially last fall the total being 286,200 acres, practically all of which will be harvested for grain. The total indicated production at this time is estimated to be about 4,000,000 bushels for the state.

The number of breeding sows in Indiana April 1, shows an increase of 8 per cent over last April. It is estimated that there are somewhat in excess of 700,000 head in the state at this time. In some sections quite a number of the poorer quality of breeding sows have been sent to market, but the demand for good stock is generally very good although not as heavy this year and is due principally to exposure. Many reporters stated the loss to be more than one-half in their locality. There is very little disease any where in the state at this time.

The farm labor supply in Indiana is again below usual being 77 per cent this year, compared with 101 per cent last year. The demand for farm labor is slightly below the usual, but considerably in excess of last year, being 97 per cent, compared with 92 per cent a year ago, while the per cent of supply to demand for farm labor is approximately 80 per cent compared to 110 per cent last year, 106 per cent in 1921 and 67 per cent in 1920. The movement of farm boys and tenants to cities and towns is still quite pronounced because of the apparently larger returns from industrial work than from farm work. In the mining and quarry districts many farm owners are letting their farms stand idle, because they can make more money working two or three days a week in the mines or quarries than on the farm. Improved farm machinery also has considerable influence on the labor demand and supply as well as the low prices being paid for farm products.

While agriculture is still at a disadvantage among the country's great productive industries, the outlook for 1923 is somewhat more encouraging than a year ago, for the thrifty farmers. Prices of farm products generally are a little higher and there is no great surplus in any crop to be disposed of. The Indiana farmers are well located and should produce to the greatest extent possible where it can be done efficiently. Many farms will lie idle this year, because tenants are selling out and moving to towns and cities where wages are high and hours much shorter.

Crops now in the ground do not look the best, but soil conditions are excellent for spring crops and every endeavor should be made to get them started right so the unit cost of production will be at the minimum. There is likely to be some reduction in certain crop acreages this spring but the only certain winners will be farmers who reduce their costs of production. Hog prices look lower for the early half of the year with good prospects for a slight advance and a steady market in the late summer and early fall. It is probable that the south will be a heavy buyer of northern pork and lard next fall. The outlook for wool appears to be favorable for a year or two at least. The demand for dairy products is fairly good, but production is heavy and increasing.

THEATRES MOVIES

Today Only At Mystic

Drama and William Farnum—There is a combination that becomes stronger with every picture in which the Fox star appears. His latest, "Brass Commandments" will be shown at the Mystic today only. It is a story of the West, done in the breezy style of Charles Alden Seltzer, popular for his narratives of outdoor action. To make a good thing better Tom Satchel, who held such a memorable conflict with Farnum in the "Spoilers," gives the Fox star an equally historical battle in this play.

There are two girls in the story. Wanda Hawley plays a capable feminine lead opposite Farnum and Claire Adams comes in for her share of honors. There is action, tons of it; the story retains interest by its dramatic tenacity; the romantic skein is well woven through the tale and the climax thunders with power. This is the opinion of critics who saw the film before its release to the general public. The people of Rushville will be able to judge for themselves.

Last Showing At Princess

Regal splendor in every sense of the word is reflected in the gorgeous court scenes of the big Cosmopolitan Production for Paramount "When Knighthood Was In Flower" starring Marion Davies, which ends its engagement at the Princess today. A glittering, colorful spectacle which makes one especially regret the inability of the camera to record colors, is the royal reception given in the throne room of King Henry VIII when the French ambassador comes to ask for the hand of Princess Mary Tudor, for old King Louis XII of France, Joseph Urban, famous artist, has outdone himself in design and color effect in this set. The long, high ceilinged room is done in purple and gold and on each side of the high carved throne are great panels depicting in colors the favorite sport of that day—mounted knights riding at full tilt with spears poised.

During the action of the scene servants of the court in their elaborate costumes are ranged three deep all along one side of the room, each bearing a lighted candle. Grouped about the throne are the ladies in waiting and the courtiers while on the throne sits Marion Davies as Princess Mary, clad in a magnificent gown as befits a princess receiving the ambassador from a king.

The satins and gold laces slashed doublets, silken tights, plumes, jewels and swords make a wonderful spectacle when the knights and ladies assemble in the great room. Overhead are the silken banners with the various coats of arms and crests of royalty.

Denning Havens Praised For Production Of Play

Credited with having produced the best high school play ever offered in Wabash, Ind., Denning Havens of this city is coming in for a large share of the praise for the success of "The Charm School," which was presented by the senior class of the Wabash high school this week. Mr. Havens will direct the same play here, under the auspices of the Tri Kappa sorority, this summer.

Regarding his work as director, the Wabash Times-Star says:

The high school play, "The Charm School" given by the seniors of Wabash high school, at the Eagles theatre last night achieved an unbelievable success, in its entirety, and through the work of its individual players. The plot had a good, strong climax—the kind the Wabash theatre going public (not the papas and mammas, uncles, aunts and grandpas and grandmas) have waited and waited so many years for the school plays to have.

With a group of sixteen, the plot is laid to include one amusing incident after another. The caste last night adopted the roles of the characters they played as though they had known them their lives long. While much credit is due Director Denning Havens, who has been directly instrumental in the success of last night's show, yet too much praise can not be given the young students who so admirably and so skillfully filled the roles.

One day walking down the hall at high school, Coach Havens saw a young woman whom he immediately visualized as the "Miss Curtis" the secretary at the girl's school. "Miss Curtis" was Mary Hill, who protested against taking a part she believed she could not fill. Yet those last night who saw the show, found it easy to select Mary Hill as an outstanding figure; whose every action and word was sufficient to produce a hearty laugh. "Miss Curtis" is the tall, very tall, spectacled spinster, in the old fashioned black "serrentarial" garb with her hair grotesquely combed in a knot, at the back of her head. Her devotion to the young principal affords the foundation for the humor of the play. ***

This is the first time that Denning Havens, dramatic director has ever coached a local talent show here, but it is certain that his first production has been one of the few really acceptable shows. There were harrowing experiences, in connection with the small box scare that would have daunted a less courageous director.

Wabash school officials feel that in losing a director like Charles Shank, who had directed plays here for so many years, they have found the man in Denning Havens, who can successfully fill his place in the hearts of the local audiences and school students.

Crawfordsville—Three-months-old Janice Joy Brown died of pneumonia while her mother thought she was sleeping. She had not been ill when she went to sleep.

NEXT CONTEST MAY BE HERE

Rushville Suggested For District Latin Event in 1924

Rushville will probably be the seat of the 1924 sixth district Latin contest, following the election of Miss Helen C. Jaehne of Milroy as chairman of the district committee having charge of the contest. Another Rush county teacher was named a member of the executive committee—Grant Cooper of New Salem, along with Miss Jaehne. The third member of the committee is Miss Bess Kidney of Brookville.

The committee was selected at the business meeting held in connection with the contest at Richmond last Friday. Several Rush county high schools were represented by contestants. The results will not be known until enough time has elapsed for the grading of the papers.

Fads

Every year has its fads. No single one is an exception. The person who imagines that he or she can escape them is mistaken. Humanity is marked in this respect as the victim of fashion.

At least this is the conclusion of the psychology students of the University of Southern California, who have turned their minds toward studying the annual fads in which the American people indulge.

It is presumed that the Egyptian turn to the styles of 1923 will be chalked up as one of the fads this year. The fact that a Pharaoh lived, ruled and died more than three thousand years ago has been seized upon as a means of digging into the American pocketbook.

What other fads 1923 will fall heir to, no one will attempt to predict, but if the past is any criterion, we may get set for many more. Compared for the most recent deceased year, the list of fads shows the following:

Long skirts, camel-hair sweaters, bobbed hair, peon pants, the radio, the Eskimo pie and flappers to eat them, sport clothes, brogue shoes.

Fads of other years, as listed by the students, have been:

1914—Kewpies on auto radiators, shoulder bouquets, feathers on men's hats, Ford jokes, tobacco coupon collections and Panama exposition.

1915—Sport shirts, military styles, Charlie Chaplin mustaches, men's hats bows in the rear, Mary Pickford curls and Boy Scout parades.

1916—"War Extras" by newspapers, election returns, peace talk, politics, flat heeled shoes for women.

1917—Knitting, knitting bags, jazzing, talking about the war.

1918—Leather coats, bobbed hair, plucked eyebrows, Bolsheviki, tom-meau windshields, Liberty bonds, joining some sort of war drive.

1919—Talking about "how you wanted to get over there, but couldn't make it," talking about being "over there," saying French girls made better wives than American girls, home-brewing, the dirigible style of headdress, jazz ties, men's pinch-waist, split back "show the shirt" cut of clothing, wool socks, "rolling their own" by women, invention of terms "selling yourself" and "merchandising."

1920—Organdie flowers on grey dresses, bootlegging, politics, "normality."

1921—Short dresses, business depression, "retrenchment," crime waves, diplomatic conferences.

World's Record

There are world's records and then world's records. Falling in the latter class is the world's dancing record. To aspire to defeat a representative of any other nation in any branch of sports, in which physical development and skill plays a part, is a worthy enterprise, but it requires a wild stretch of the imagination to reach the realm where one could gain fame by winning a world's dancing record.

Dancing has never been regarded as a test of physical endurance yet when a certain British couple danced for seventeen hours without stopping, the fact was published to the world that the world's record for non-stop dancing had been established.

Past experience should have taught our English cousins that their Anglo-Saxon neighbors would never permit them to flout a world's record in their faces, even though it be in the gentle art of dancing.

Ala Cummings, a Texas girl, promptly accepted the defy and, dancing in New York, she soon outstripped her British rival, though she wore out a couple of brass bands, several phonographs, not to mention a half dozen partners.

Along came a French girl who aspired to the waxed floor honors and she surpassed the no-stop record of Miss Cummings, the advice from Paris said.

But Miss Cummings came back to the undisputed championship this week, we are informed, when she danced continuously for fifty hours.

Asked to what she ascribed her success as a non-stop dancer, Miss Cummings told a reporter, who two-stepped, fox-trotted and waltzed around the floor with her, that it was due to a vegetarian diet and early training chasing cows on a Texas ranch.

We hope that no local aspirants to this world honor have overlooked this recipe. Meat eaters, beware. If you would become the world's greatest dancer, lie yourself to the boundless plains of the great cow-punching west and chase cows.

Although the interview is lacking on this point, we presume that Miss Cummings must have chased cows afoot, otherwise she would not have acquired the muscular development that brought to her this world honor—all this in spite of the fact that there lurked in our mind a haunting, perhaps fleeting idea, that cowpunchers punched cows while stride wild ponies. Perhaps it's our mistake. Note: Miss Cummings wore out seven pairs of slippers.

The concert given yesterday afternoon by the Wabash College Glee club was a very fine entertainment. The young men composing the organization are as fine a lot of young men as was ever sent out by any college. The families who entertained the boys for dinner speak in the highest terms of the gentlemanly worth of their guests.

The preliminary oratorical contest held at the Graham high school last night was well attended and was an enthusiastic one. There were but two contestants for the place last evening. Miss Louise Mauzy, whose subject was "Cosmopolitanism" and Ward Hackleman who spoke on "Re-naisance". Both did excellent but Miss Mauzy was given the decision as the winner.

BABE GOES TO OTHER EXTREME

Experts Say Champion Slugger is Too Thin and Too Anxious, in Effort to Come Back

LAST YEAR FAT AND CARELESS

Didn't Start Hitting Homers Until Sunday When He Smacked One Off Former Yank

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, April 11—Babe Ruth is the greatest exponent of the superlative that ever graced any line of sport. All through the more famous part of his career a "too" has been attached to every descriptive of the swat king.

Last year he was too fat and too careless and he slipped from the best almost to the worst. This year the experts say Babe is too thin and too anxious. He was once too diffident and now he is too careful and in another couple of months the verdict may be—"it's too bad!"

Ruth is doing his best to get a clean start this year and while his newly adopted morals are being commended his ambitions are being put on the pan.

Babe didn't start hitting homers until Sunday, when he smacked one off Harry Harper, the former southpaw, who is now hurling for the Brooklyn Robins. Perhaps his initial swat of the exhibition series will be discounted because "he ought to know Harper." But along the same line of reasoning Harper should be familiar with the Babe's groove—if he has one.

It was said down south that the Babe is swinging too long and was "pulling" ahead of the ball. Then he started choking the bat and the critics wailed that he might become a .500 batter of little singles, doubles and triples that way, but that wasn't his stuff.

The Babe says that his vision is so defective he cannot read the papers and no doubt it is well for him that he can't because most of the complaints from an army of critics, all of different opinions would set bugs buzzing in the beam of an ordinary human.

With exception such as an occasional invasion of the stands to silence a "dirty crack," the Babe has gone about his business in his own way and perhaps will do it this year.

The Babe is inclined to worry within himself, however, and since he has developed a keen sense of duty toward what he regards as his public, he might be too anxious this year and if he doesn't get away good he may suffer from "non-confidence."

Let the Babe get one good smack out of the Yankee park in the first series and he may not stop for the rest of the year. Heinie Groh proved to the stylenists that everything does not depend upon the stance at the bat or the method of gripping and Babe should be allowed to figure out his own redemption.

The friendly and favorable attitude of the public toward the Hupmobile is a fitting reward for a car which gives continuous service at unusually low cost.

FANNING WITH FARRELL

Can Win If They Fight

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York April 11—With the help of a singular break, the New York Yanks fell staggering across the finish line in October last year and won the pennant race from the St. Louis Browns by a slim margin of one game.

George Sisler pulled over too far off first base for a low throw in one of the late games of the year and that over-stretch virtually gave the Yanks the victory. The great St. Louis star severely wrenched his shoulder and had to be taken out of the game, Bill Jacobson, an outfielder, taking his place.

Aided by that stroke of fate, the Yankees won.

In the opinion of many who like to look over the figures and dope winners, the American League champions will need another similar help from Lady Luck to stem the tide that may rush on them from several different angles next season.

That opinion is not supported entirely by real dope, however.

Since the Detroit Tigers and the Chicago White Sox have been very materially strengthened during the off season and since the Yanks barely escaped with their scalps last year, it seems that the chances of the Yanks in the coming race depend largely upon what improvement Miller Huggins has worked in his club since that time.

The showing of the Yankees in the world's series, when the Giants made them look like a second-place club in the Katy League, indicated that the greatest needs of the American League champions were a fighting heart, a brain, cohesion and hustle.

Physically the team may have been improved with the addition of Herb Pennock, the former Boston southpaw. Joe Dugan's presence for an entire season also should help, but there can be no means of knowing that the club has had implanted a

BARNSTORMING

Knoxville, Tenn.—One triple play and the double plays by the White Sox infield stopped the Giants cold and McGraw's team lost a ten inning battle by a score of 4 to 3. Willie Kamm hit a homer and Jimmy O'Connell got three singles in three times up.

Tulsa, Omaha—Babe Ruth fanned four times while the Yankees were beating the Robins 5-4. Dagan, Bush, Wheat and Tom Griffith hit homers. Wallie Pipp drove in two runs that won the game.

Philadelphia—By working a squeeze play in the eighth inning yesterday the Athletics broke a tie and put over two runs that resulted in the Phillies being defeated 4 to 1.

New Orleans—The Cleveland Indians will break camp here Sunday night and start on their journey home.

Memphis, Tenn.—Despite heavy hitting, the St. Louis Browns looked bad in winning from Memphis, 8-1. Manager Lee Fohl is having his troubles keeping his men in condition.

SPORT CHATTER

Philadelphia.—Arthur Chambers 75, lightweight of the old bare knuckle days who engaged in a 136 round bout, died from a stroke of paralysis.

Chicago.—The Kansas City Kansas basketball team holds the national interscholastic basketball title today, having defeated Rockford, Ill., in the final game of the tournament. The score was 43 to 21. Charleston S. C. took third place.

Nashville, Tenn.—The Pirates have released Shortstop Ralph Michaels, outfielder Hazen Cuyler and pitcher John Wright to Nashville.

Cincinnati—Eddie Rousch, star Cincinnati outfielder, is holding out for a three year contract for $16,000, he announced after another conference with the Red officials. He was offered a one year contract for $15,000 and refused it.

New York—Jess Willard, former world's heavy weight champion, has been established as the favorite at 2 to 1 to beat Floyd Johnson when they meet here May 12, according to Darnell and Company. One bet of $3,000 on Willard against $1,000 has been placed.

St. Louis—Announcement here today that George Sisler the "perfect ball player," would undergo an operation next week for serious trouble confirmed a statement by Mgr. Lee Fohl of the Browns that the great first baseman would probably be out of the game throughout the 1923 season.

ADMITS AYLES ROBBERY

Muncie, Ind., April 11.—Floyd Houston of Fortville, arrested here as a suspect is said to have confessed to participation in the A. B. Ayles home robbery at Fortville last August when loot was taken valued at $2,000. Fred Torrence, Kenneth Torrence, his son, and Dudley Wilkes, all of Fortville were implicated in the confession and are under arrest at Fortville.

BITS OF PROSPERITY FROM ALL OVER INDIANA

Columbia City, Ind., April 11—The International Association of Specialty Salesmen headquarters have been moved to South Whitley from Chicago, and work will be started within the next week on a new headquarters building. In addition, twenty-five homes are to be built at the town by a realty company.

South Bend, Ind., April 11—Evidence of prosperity in the building trades of South Bend is seen in wage increase for carpenters, bricklayers and plasterers, effective last week. The greatest expansion record in the history of the city is that of March when permits were issued by the city for more than $2,000,000 worth of new buildings.

Ft. Wayne, Ind., April 11—Shortage of labor is continually growing in Ft. Wayne, according to the Free Employment Service. Farmers all are calling for extra help, but are unable to procure workers. During the last week only 325 persons applied for work through the employment service, but it was called on to find men to fill 429 jobs.

Kokomo, Ind., April 11—A general pick-up of all business and a noticeable boom with the industries of this city are the early fruits of the new year which have brought about the increase of postoffice receipts, says Postmaster Ben Havens. For the quarters ended March 31, the receipts totaled $37,360.06 or $4,014.84 more than for the same period in 1922.

Wabash, Ind., April 11—All manufacturing plants in Wabash are working full time, and several are on an overtime schedule in an effort to keep up with orders. Others are taking on additional workers, importing men from surrounding towns. The Wabash Cabinet Company announces it has contracted for more than $2,500,000 worth of talking machine cabinets, the contracts having been obtained the last few weeks.

A SCHOOL GIRL'S SUCCESS

Everything Depends upon her Health

Mrs. George E. Whitacre Tells of her Daughter's Breakdown and How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her a Healthy, Happy, Strong Girl

Every mother possesses information of vital importance to her young daughter, and the responsibility for her future is largely in her hands. When a school girl's thoughts become sluggish, when she suffers the consequences of wet feet, pain, headaches, fainting spells, loss of sleep and appetite, and is irregular, her mother should have a thought for her physical condition and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which has proved a reliable aid to nature for just such conditions in so many cases.

This Mother Writes: Mahoningtown, Pa.—"I would like to say a few words about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. About a year ago I thought it would be necessary for me to take my daughter out of school. She was losing weight, was nervous, and when she would come home from school she would drop into a chair and cry, and say, 'Mamma, I don't believe I can go to school another day!' I gave her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now she is a healthy, happy, hearty, strong girl and weighs 120 pounds. She has no difficulty in doing her 'gym' work, and she works at home every night and morning, too. I am a mother who can certainly praise your medicine, and if it will be of any benefit you may use this letter as a reference."—Mrs. GEORGE E. WHITACRE, 621 W. Madison Avenue, Mahoningtown, Pa.

Every girl ought to be healthy and strong, and every mother wants her daughter to do well in school and to enjoy herself at other times.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for young women just entering womanhood. Mothers can depend upon it. It is prepared from roots and herbs, contains nothing harmful, and has great power to tone up and strengthen the system, so it will work in a healthy and normal manner.

For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been used by women of all ages, and these women know its great value. Let it help your daughter and yourself.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts.

HUNTED 13 YEARS, FREED

Charles Campbell Acquitted On Old Murder Charge

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., April 11.—Free today after 13 years of haunting knowledge that he was wanted in Indianapolis to face charges of first degree murder.

Charles Campbell, 41, of Detroit, was found not guilty of murdering Leonard Jefferies, a fellow workman here in 1910 by a jury in Criminal court after deliberation of only 15 minutes.

Campbell said he hit Jefferies with a piece of concrete after Jefferies drew a razor on him during an argument in a crap game in the back of their workshop. He fled to Detroit, where he was arrested, police said, when he was overheard to remark that he had "killed a man in Indianapolis once."

APRIL 16 TO BE PAY DAY

Uncle Sam Will Pay Off $125,000,000 on Fourth Liberty Bonds

April 16th is a big "pay day" for the world's greatest banker. On that day Uncle Sam will turn over $125,000,000 to holders of Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds. Indiana's slice of this "million" amounts to about $3,000,000.

Postmaster Riggs urges holders of these bonds to clip their coupons promptly and to re-invest their interest in the new U. S. "Baby Bonds" which he is now selling at $20.50 each and which will be worth $25 each in five years (an increase of about 22%). Under the government's Monthly Investment Plan, if a person buys one of the Baby Bonds every month he will own sixty at the end of five years, the maturity value of which is $1500.

SUIT FOR A RECEIVERSHIP

Receiver Sought For Lexington Motor Co., Of Connersville

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., April 11.—Receivership for the Lexington Motor Company was asked in a suit filed in federal court here today by the Jacques Manufacturing Company of Wilmington, Delaware, makers of automobile bodies.

The suit alleges that the Lexington Morton Company of Connersville is insolvent, is unable to borrow money and has been operating at a loss for months.

Assets of the company are listed at $1,794,000 in a suit and liabilities at $3,470,000.

The complaint alleges that in July 1922 the Lexington Company ordered 1,250 automobile bodies from the Jacques Company for a total of $337,000. The Lexington Company was shipped $155,000 of this amount. Of that amount $59,842.11 is still due and unpaid the suit alleges.

Elwood—A revival of the Madison county Historical society resulted from a talk by Miss Lucy Elliott, Indianapolis to the Federated clubs.

The Snapdragon

In snapdragons, a large number of new colors, in both the giant, the half dwarf and the dwarf types are offered. The best for the average flower garden is the half dwarf, and some of the new soft colorings with peculiar blendings and blotchings are fascinating. These plants should be started indoors, if possible, although plants sown outdoors as soon as the ground is workable will give bloom by midsummer.

The New American Beauty Type of aster caused a furore among aster growers when its huge, long-stemmed October flowers became known. It is of the late blanching type. Now we have a giant form of the popular comet or ostrich feather type coming under the name of California Giants.

The Allwood pinks a cross between the carnation and the hardy pink of the garden, with the clove scent of the former, will not displace either the annual pink or the old favorite grass pink in the garden, but has a distinct place as a cut flower, being much more lasting than the grass pinks and bearing larger flowers.

The development of an early double type of cosmos is an interesting feature this year. The anemone flowered type, with tufted centers and well defined ray flowers, is offered in separate colors.

BIDS RECEIVED ON SCHOOL HOUSE

lidated high school project will not be pushed until the enrollment increases. High school pupils will have to attend either Rushville or Cartilage.

The advisory board, consisting of Jesse A. Leisure, Chester M. Cross and Oliver Siler and the trustee, Mr. Beckner were here this morning when the bids were received, and the commissioners room in the court house was well filled with bidders and spectators.

The site for the new building has been selected after a legal battle to have the land condemned for school building purposes, and over which a legal battle resulted as to the price to be paid for the land.

The site is on the Wilkinson farm, on the Knightstown pike. The legal controversy was settled several months ago, and Alva Newhouse, former trustee, attempted to build a consolidated school, but the state board of tax commissioners refused to allow the bond issue.

The new building will be modern in every detail, having toilets and drainage, class rooms well ventilated, an electric lighting system, basement for domestic science, a gymnasium and an auditorium. The gymnasium will be made available for use as a stock show pavilion.

2,000 Girls Educated to Be Stenographers in 1922

Indianapolis, April 11—Approximately 2,000 young women educated themselves to be stenographers in 1922, and more will be turned out this year, according to figures of a census of Indianapolis business colleges and high schools taken recently.

Typists, it was said get promoted to more responsible positions and a great many get married, leaving plenty of room for all that the schools turn out.

It takes six months to a year to learn to jot down the strange "pot-hooks" of shorthand as fast as the average business man talks, and transcribe them to a typewritten page in time to catch the evening mail collection.

Twice a year the crop is ready—and in Indianapolis it's crop of peaches!

Many people, no doubt, came to the trial out of curiosity, and with the expectation that some sensational evidence would be given, but those people were not given such an opportunity. The trial was exceptionally clean.

Last night the court room was half filled with spectators at 9 o'clock awaiting the verdict, and the defendant remained in the court room until a late hour.

The complete list of the jurors, who failed to reach a verdict, was as follows: Lon Kiser, Thomas Bishop, Charles Nordloh, Will Arnold, George Gehner, T. C. Gray, Herb Denninger, John Stark, Peter Nichol, John Murphy, Clem Gardner and Oliver Offutt.

SCHOOLS ENTER STATE CONTEST

be given by the Civic Club at the Chamber of Commerce, and the banquet in the evening on Friday at the Elks club.

Five loving cups will be given as prizes to the schools making the best showing in the different classes of the contest.

The state conference of commercial will be held Saturday following the typewriting-shorthand meet and the following program will be held:

9:30 o'clock—Advanced Bookkeeping Problems, by C. E. Hostetler, of Brazil.

10:30—Transcription, Miss Mary Sullivan, of Indianapolis.

12:00—Luncheon and an address by Mr. McClellan, Muncie attorney.

1:30—High School Commercial course, by Conrad Morris, of Marion.

It is probable that a plan will be brought before the conference for different arrangements for the state typewriting-shorthand contest next year at this time. By this plan the state would be divided into 13 districts and high schools would compete in district tournaments in the same manner as the district tournament for basketball, and the winners of each district would be sent to the state meet at Muncie, for final competition. Richmond would be one of the 13 district centers. Nothing definite has been done on this problem, but it will be one of the most important subjects of the conference.

Officers of the conference are as follows: G. H. Cleveland, Richmond president; M. W. Northrop, Central of Fort Wayne, vice president; Miss Opal Pence, of Muncie, secretary-treasurer. It is probable that the officers will make an address before the conference.

had come to the attention of the state board of accounts and its examiners and suggested some remedies.

"My main thought was the general inefficiency and extravagance which has developed into a system through years of growth and nourishment and which threatens to bankrupt the nation, the state and the various municipalities unless a halt is soon called.

must have relief soon or give up the fight."

The statement carried the text of a letter from George P. Ashbury president of the Men's League of the First M. E. church, before which the address was made, deploring that Eschbach's speech was misquoted in a Terre Haute paper and resulted in fight between him and the governor.

"I regret exceedingly the position taken by Governor McCray in the matter of my talk to the Men's League, but I too have an oath of office on file to support the constitution of Indiana and execute the laws as I find them and not as my friends or I might wish to find them," Eschbach said.

Eschbach said he declared in his Terre Haute speech that state institutions could be operated by fewer employees; that a better business policy could be pursued in building state institutions; that fewer persons be employed in state department and those retained on the payroll be required to function properly and that there be more business in the state government, eliminating politics as much as possible.

The examiner denied he had stated the appropriation bill passed by the legislature carried $21,000,000, but said that was the sum asked to maintain the state government. Regarding the new reformatory being built at Pendleton, Eschbach said he did not make any recommendation for appropriation to complete the institution. He said he "never believed the reformatory was planned nor being built according to the ideals either of efficiency or economy for a penal institution."

One state department requesting an emergency appropriation so that its work would not be curtailed, increased salaries in the office $3,300 a year after the legislature adjourned, Eschbach said. Governor McCray approved the increases, Eschbach said, although he had denied knowledge of them.

Birkholz Declares Tanlac Ended Indigestion and Restored Boundless Energy

"I can recommend Tanlac feeding certain that it will help anyone who tries it," said George G. Birkholz while in Springfield, Ill., recently. Mr. Birkholz resides at 709 Port Wayne Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., and travels for the A. P. W. Paper Company of Albany, N. Y.

"Indigestion and headaches kept me lagged out all the time, and my appetite was so sorry that many days I wouldn't eat at all. In fact, I could get by with less suffering when I didn't eat, although it made me very weak. My nerves were shattered too, and my back pained me so bad that I often felt like I couldn't carry my sample case another step.

"However, since taking the Tanlac treatment I eat three square meals every day, and never have a particle of indigestion. My other troubles are gone too, and I feel like a new man. I certainly have to hand it to Tanlac for putting me in such fine shape."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Take no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Milroy Schools to Exhibit Famous
Pictures at K. of P. Lodge Rooms
Thursday and Friday

MISS JAEHNE TO LECTURE

Two consignments of prints of famous pictures, which will be exhibited by the Milroy schools at the K. of P. lodge rooms in Milroy Thursday and Friday of this week, were received by the school officials last week. A large majority of the pictures, which are loaned gratis by Porter-Mottier Art Co., of Chicago, are in water colors, the others being in sepia. The exhibit consisting of more than one hundred and forty pictures will be hung early in the week in order to leave ample time for the arrangement of details.

Those who have examined the pictures since their arrival are unanimously enthusiastic concerning the size and quality of the prints. A goodly number of the subjects are as large as eighteen by forty inches.

Miss Helen C. Jaehne, of the Milroy high school, will present an interpretative lecture on Thursday evening and again on Friday afternoon. The tickets are now being offered for sale by the pupils, the entire proceeds of the sale to be invested in new pictures for the school.

HEART ACTION IS REVIVED BY FLUID

Medical Science Makes Discovery
With Adrenalin, A Fluid, To
"Resurrect The Dead"

UNDER SOME CIRCUMSTANCES

Has Proven Of Value Where Heart
Stopped Beating From Nervous
Shock—Must Be Used At Once

By H. E. CAYLOR
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, April 11.—Adrenalin, a fluid extracted from glands controlling emotions of fear, stays death in "shock" cases as the victim's heart stops beating but will not "resurrect the dead," Dr. Karl A. Meyer, Chief surgeon of the Cook county hospital declared today in explaining use of the newly disclosed medical discovery.

After extensive experiments and use of the adrenalin method, declared to have been brought to its present usefulness by experiments of Dr. G. W. Crile, Cleveland and Dr. Dennis W. Cile, Chicago, Dr. Meyer told the United Press just what the public and medical science can expect from it. He said:

"Adrenalin is a preventative of death where the thing that would cause death is removed within six to eight minutes after the heart stops beating. Although in this interval, a patient may be pronounced dead, the brain and other cells are not dead and the state of death is not complete.

THE OLD HOME TOWN By Stanley

"If injected into the heart or the veins as the heart is about to stop or has ceased beating less than the time required for brain and other cells to die, it acts as a powerful stimulant and contraction. In so called 'shock' cases the heart starts beating again and the patient resumes living, providing conditions are right.

"After the heart ceased to beat for six or eight minutes the brain and other cells die and though adrenalin may cause the heart to beat again briefly, the patient cannot live because death exists.

"Adrenalin is not an exactly new drug. It was used in war hospitals and in stages of its development has been used in hospitals for some time. I understand the experiments conducted by the Doctors Crile have done much to develop the method to its present 'perfection.'

"It is not the only thing that will receive a patient after the heart stops but it is by far the most powerful and the best. It is an advance step over the massage and other methods."

The powers of adrenalin were first made known to the public in a report before the Chicago Medical Society last week that said persons "pronounced dead" had been revived. In these cases the drug was administered from six to eight minutes after the heart stopped.

The fluid used is from the adrenal gland, whose functions are vital to life and control certain emotions. Animals are used in the extractions.
